

YOUR FIRST TWO GOALS

As you begin, you'll want identify a goal to work towards in each of your two journeys (learning & destination) that will begin advancing you toward your dreams. Here is what we recommend:

LEARNING JOURNEY: MASTER THE "INVITING FORMULA"

Practice using the two most basic skills you'll need to succeed: "Golden Rule Communication" and "Asking Questions." Use these two skills to successfully invite people to introductory presentations. Learn to feel comfortable talking to people and offering them help.

In the beginning, your upline Director will do the presentation, so you can concentrate all your attention on learning these skills and on listening to what your prospects need and want. The more people you invite, the more will come to the presentations. The more people that come to the presentations, the more will join your team. The more people that join your team, the quicker you will advance toward your ultimate destination.

DESTINATION JOURNEY: COMPLETE PHASE 1 & BECOME A DIRECTOR
